My Brothers,

When I was four years old, my parents purchased a tract of land near my maternal grandparents' home in eastern Kentucky. At the time, we still lived about fifteen minutes away in southwest Virginia. My father immediately began clearing the land and leveling it in preparation of building a new home for our family. In the meantime, my mother had purchased a grocery store that had long been in our family from my aunt. One day, a local conservation officer came into the store. He offered her several bundles of white pine saplings to distribute to customers as part of his work. She took a bundle home with her and planted a line of saplings along the border of our new property. My mom loved pine trees, and, as the trees grew, she took great effort to prevent damage to them. They grew into large, beautiful trees, and served as a great addition to our landscaping.

As anyone who has cultivated pine trees can tell you, once they sustain damage, unlike deciduous trees, they do not repair themselves. If you trim a pine tree, that branch never grows again past the point of pruning. If you remove the leader branch, or main vertical branch, it does not regenerate. One of the horizontal branches turns upward and takes its place. Thus, if you want pristine pine trees, you must remain prudent and resist the urge to prune them, and you must protect them from potentially irreparable damage.

We, as humans, are not unlike the lofty pines that lined my childhood home. Words and actions, even when they seem insignificant, can leave a lifelong impact. Be it a slip of the tongue, or a well-meant piece of constructive criticism, your words do carry consequences. I encourage you to remain mindful of this fact.

A few years ago, while watching an episode of The Crown, a historic drama based upon the British monarchy on Netflix, the Queen Mother reminded Queen Elizabeth that there are three things the British royals ask themselves before speaking: "Does it need to be said? Does it need to be said by me? Does it need to be said by me, now?" Reflecting upon this, and determining it to be wonderful advice, I began researching to find the origin of the thought. Surprisingly, it was not the British royals, but rather late-night comedian Craig Ferguson, in an interview years ago, who proposed these questions as a method of determining whether it was prudent to speak a thought.

Speaking without thinking can lead to harmful consequences. Just because a thought enters your head, even if it's valid, does not mean it will be productive to share it with others. Will it move the conversation forward? Further, you have to consider whether you're the right person to share the idea. Would it be better to come from someone else? If you are not the leader in the situation, would it be better to allow the leader to express their opinion? Would the information or critique be better received from someone else?

The consideration of time is a must, as well. Do you have all of the relevant information to make an informed opinion and decision? Is the setting right for the conversation? One of my mentors, Past Grand Master Gary C. Rose, told me long ago that it is better to praise in public and reprimand in private. Another mentor, Past Grand Master Timothy D. Sanders once told me, long before I was ever a District Deputy Grand Master, that "you have to know when to cut a snake's head off, and when to let it crawl away."

Brothers, if you arrive at a yes to each of the three original questions posed above, I would encourage you to finally ask yourself whether you are acting from a position of truth, love, and kindness. Reacting spitefully out of initial hurt from a situation, or out of revenge, is simply unmasonic. It is too late once words are said, because you cannot un-ring the proverbial bell any more than you can reattach the limb that has been sawn from a pine tree. The individuals concerned are forever changed.

My hope for each of you remains that you will move forward as Freemasons with a spirit of prudence, restraining the urge to react for the sake of reacting. Instead, consider all things in a spirit of reason. Ask yourself, will it produce a benefit for me? Will it produce a benefit for the other individual concerned? Will it produce a benefit for mankind? My Brothers, living a Masonic life is not for the faint of heart, as much as it requires action, sometimes it requires inaction. Even in the times of challenge, remember that with time, patience, and perseverance we shall accomplish all things!

Fraternally thine,

Mitchell A. May Grand Master Grand Lodge of Kentucky F&AM

GRAND HISTORIAN'S NOTES

My Brothers,

As the District Meetings get under way, I look forward to visiting with each of you as we travel across the Commonwealth. This month, I have included a brief description of the formation of our Grand Lodge 225 years ago. I trust that you will find this recitation both informative and enjoyable.

On Monday, September 08, 1800, at the invitation of then Lexington Lodge No. 25, a convention of the five lodges located in the Commonwealth of Kentucky opened at Masons' Hall in Lexington. Fifteen Brothers were present for the proceedings, including representatives of Lexington Lodge No. 25, Paris Lodge No. 35, Georgetown Lodge No. 46, Hiram Lodge No. 57, and Abraham Lodge, U.D. Brother John Hawkins, a Past Master of Georgetown Lodge No. 46 took the chair, and Brother Thomas Bodley served as Clerk. Brother William Murray was appointed as part of a committee to draft an address to the Grand Lodge of Virginia requesting consent to form a new Grand Jurisdiction in Kentucky, citing the extreme distance between Virginia's coast and the Kentucky frontier.

With the Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of Virginia adopting a resolution consenting to the formation of a new Grand Lodge in Kentucky, the five lodges enumerated above met again at Masons' Hall in Lexington on Monday, October 08, 1800. Being the oldest Past Master present, Brother James Morrison of Lexington Lodge No. 25 (now No. 1) was requested to assume the Chair as President of the Convention. A Master Masons' Lodge was then opened in due form, the Masters of the several lodges produced their charters, as well as their credentials. Brother Morrison then held an election of Grand Officers with Brother William Murray, Master of Hiram Lodge No. 57 (now No. 4), being elected Grand Master. He was immediately installed, but waived his right to appointed a Deputy Grand Master and instead the Grand Lodge elected Brother Alexander McGraw, Master of Lexington Lodge No. 25 (now No. 1), to the position. Brother Simon Adams, Master of Abraham's Lodge, U.D., was elected Senior Grand Warden, and Brother Carey L. Clarke, Past Master of Georgetown Lodge No. 46 (now No. 3), was elected Junior Grand Warden. Brother James Russell was elected Grand Secretary, Brother John A. Seitz as Grand Treasurer, Brother Thomas Hughes as Grand Senior Deacon, Brother Nathaniel Williams as Junior Grand Deacon, Brother Samuel Shepherd as Grand Pursuivant, and Brother John Bobbs as Grand Tyler.

The following day, a resolution was adopted to draft a circular letter to the several Grand Lodges in the United States detailing the formation of our Grand Lodge. At the same time, the Ahiman Rezon published by Brother John K. Reid, Deputy Grand Master of Virginia, was adopted as the rule of government of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky. Further, a resolution was adopted authorizing the appointment of well-skilled Brothers to visit the different lodges subordinate to this Grand Jurisdiction and inspect their workings. Additionally, it was ordered that the five subordinate lodges be renumbered as Lexington Lodge No. 1, Paris Lodge No. 2, Georgetown Lodge No. 3, Hiram Lodge No. 4, and Solomon's (formerly Abraham's) Lodge No. 5. Charters were then reissued pursuant to this order, and the seal of Lexington Lodge No. 25 was used until one could be procured for use of the Grand Lodge. The Grand Lodge, having completed its business, adjourned.

WHEN HE FINDS OUT WHY

By Stephen D. Bowling (649, 939, 996)

The King James Version of the Bible mentions thirty-seven types of trees or wood in its holy pages. Most are mentioned in passing or with specific purposes. Two very specific woods teach us great lessons as men and Masons.

Woodmen felled the cedars of Lebanon (Cedrus Libani) for their strong, durable wood, known throughout the Middle East for its beauty and aromatic lumber. The cedars can grow 130 feet tall, and the oldest are about eight feet in circumference. The bark of the cedar was used to treat leprosy and other ailments. The cedars spread a large canopy, allowing sunlight to filter through the needle-like leaves, offering travelers a place of cool peace and respite. The tall cedars became a symbol of the strength and power of the region. The tall trees were highly desired for building materials and were used as roofing support beams to create large open expanses.

Shittim wood boasts none of the qualities of the tall cedars. The shittim, or shittah, tree is a small member of the acacia family. Its small, irregular branches are twisted and difficult for carpenters to work. A hardwood, the shittim is considered a "trash wood" and holds little value for woodworkers and carpenters.

The two types of wood have very different uses in the history of Freemasonry. The cedars of Lebanon were chopped down and hauled, by way of Joppa, to Mount Moriah for the construction of the holy Temple of Solomon. Its large beams covered the Holy of Holies and the Temple. God chose the shittim tree's twisted wood to be used for the Ark of the Covenant. The plans for the Ark of the Testimony were given to Moses during his 40-day stay on Mount Sinai, and Bezalel and Aholiab constructed the ark.

The juxtaposition of these two trees teaches the masonic principle of purpose. Mark Twain once wrote: "The two most important days in a person's life are the day they were born and the day they find out why they were born." God found purpose in both of the trees. To the naked eye, the cedar was more valuable and highly prized, yet the twisted branches of the shittim wood were chosen to house the pot of manna, Aaron's rod, and the tablets. It was the most unlikely wood to be selected for the mercy seat where God's presence dwelt with man on earth.

As Masons, we must see value in everyone and everything, regardless of appearance or history. We learn that, as Masons, we are called to service. The great challenge for us is to find that purpose and the opportunities we have to serve our fellow man. In short, we should celebrate those two days identified by Twain and see a God-centered purpose in us all. We have to find our purpose!

MASONIC PROGRAMS AND EVENTS SUPPORT A LEGACY OF CARING

The Badge of a Mason Giving Program Update

Did you know that on average, Masonic Homes Kentucky spends more than $225 per day on each resident? Our Masonic principles are endowed with a belief in God and helping our fellow man through charitable means and the Badge of a Mason campaign was established to honor this legacy. Funds raised support Masons and widows who need assistance while living at Masonic Homes Kentucky. Since its inception, Badge of a Mason has raised more than $135,000.

Participating lodges are recognized and celebrated annually at the Master Mason Dinner where they are presented with a shadow box of the year's commemorative apron featuring an iconic landmark to display at their lodge.

The Friends of Masonic Homes was created to offer an easy way to support the campaign and enable all Brothers, their wives and widows, the opportunity to give with a recurring monthly donation. The ease of an ACH or debit card donation monthly can be calculated by lodge affiliation. The sum of the monthly contributions will roll up to a designated giving level and the lodge will be recognized as a Badge of a Mason.

To participate, talk to your District Ambassador or contact Development & Fraternal Relations Director David Young at dyoung@masonicky. com or 502.753.8828.

Brethren,

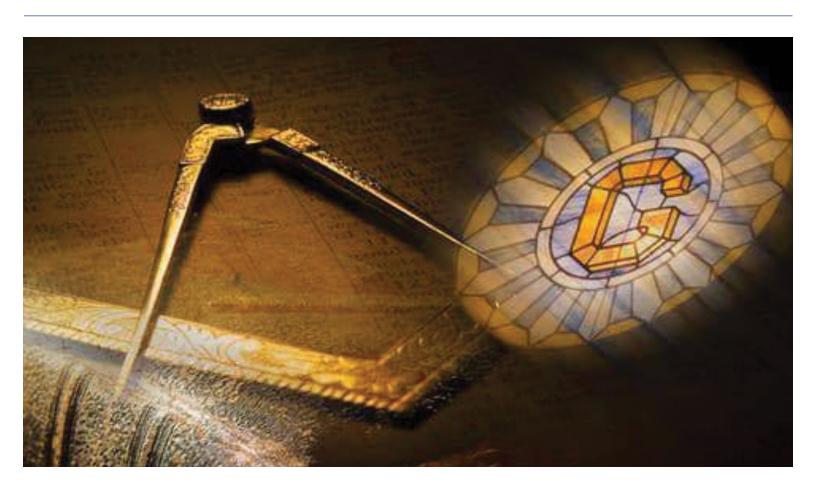

What do you think if Illustrious Brother Albert Pike would say if he sat in on one of our Reunions? Would he critique our Degree Work, our production of the Degree, or maybe the essence of the Degree we are trying to portray. Remember, he did rewrite most of the Scottish Rite Degrees to be acted out on a stage for better viewing and clarity. Just something for us to think about.

The Consistories are gearing up for their Spring Reunions. Let's all Scottish Rite members pitch in and help anyway we can. We do realize for some members their Consistory is quite a trip away from home, but if you can make one Reunion a year, that would be great. But most importantly, the Reunions need candidates. Ask that Blue Lodge Brother to join you at the University of Freemasonry. All you have to do is ask! Call your Consistory for petitions.

Please remember the RiteCare Foundation in your Consistory. Our mission to help children with speech issues is a Blessing. Check out our new RiteCare website at www.ritecareofkentucky.org and see the great work that is being done for the kids.

Remember our senior members that may need a ride to our or any Masonic meeting. Take care and may God Bless!

Terry L. Bowman, PGM, 33° SGIG, Orient of Kentucky

GOAL SETTING 2025 (PART 2)

Let's get to work. A few years ago, we had a situation at our Consistory where the cost of our insurance skyrocketed to over $7,000.00 Our Secretary Registrar and I started searching for other insurance companies and found a brother in Alabama that saved us over $3,000.00 per year. His name is David Caldwell. His email is david@caldwellinsurance.net. His phone number is (256) 582-4020. His website is insuremylodge.com. I encourage everyone to contact him and get a quote for your lodge. I hope this information helps.

Our District Meetings started February 28th with District 5. Our DDGM Sam Ware 33° did an outstanding job. Districts 7 and 8 meet March 1, District 1 March 14, District 2,3,4 March 15. We will have a table set up at each district meeting for anyone interested in what the Scottish Rite is.

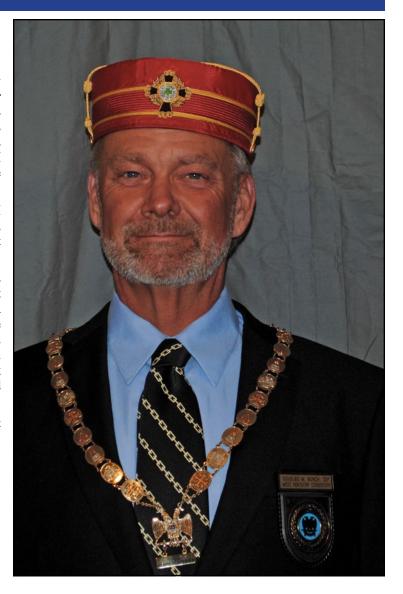

Our first lady Ada May is supporting our philanthropy this year. Her pins are $10.00. I CHALLENGE EVERY SCOTTISH RITE MEMBER (except our SGIG) to purchase pins. If you are the PR or Sec/Reg you should have a minimum of 7, 33° minimum of 5, 32° KCCH minimum 3, 32° Scottish Rite member minimum 1. I know as an appendant body we quietly work behind the scenes, but this year we need to step it up and shine. Helping children with speech and language disorders between the ages of 2 and 7 learn to talk and communicate helps our communities and families and makes our world a better place to live.

Our next meeting is March 20th with the meal at 6 PM and the meeting at 7 PM.

Our next Reunion is April 5th. I hope to see you there.

May God Bless You, your Family, your Lodge and the USA,

Douglas W. Bunch, 32° KCCH Personal Representative Western Kentucky Scottish Rite, Valley of Madisonville
